Trumbull, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported without amendment the House bill repealing the requirement of an iron clad oath of office and the Senate bill to refund tax on salaries of State and Judicial officers; also adversely to the House bill to allow persons accused of crimes to testify in their own behalf in the U. Washington News.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The Senate Finance Committee will complete the tariff tax bill on to-morrow. The door of their committee room is beseiged by persons interested in items of the bill.

The Senate went into executive session at four and a half on the additional article to the Treaty of Washington without coming to a conclusion. It has been ascertained that comparatively few Senators wish to participate in the discussion, therefore it may be ended and the result reached this week.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From Paris.

PARIS, May 23.—The Prince and Princess of Wales are expected to arrive to-morrow.

Paris journals generally consider that the debates of the Assembly on Tuesday and Wednesday inflicted a crushing blow on the hopes of the friends of the Empire. THE DEMOCRATIC EDITORS OF ILLINOIS.—At a meeting of about twenty Democratic editors from the interior of the State, held on the 9th in Chicago, Mr. Merritt, of the State Register, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we, the Democratic editors of Illinois, do heartily endorse and approve the principles and platform adopted by the Cincinnati [illegible] Convention, and do respectfully recommend to the favorable consideration of the Democratic National Convention the candidates chosen by the Cincinnati Convention.

Mr. Merritt said he had been long enough on the losing side and now wanted to do something to put the Democracy on top. The resolution of Mr. Merritt was then voted down. The Democratic editors of Illinois say they will not wait until the 9th of July before taking an unequivocal stand upon the Presidential question.

An English locomotive was lately run, experimentally, 77 miles in one hour.

The Mercury of yesterday has the following: "It was reported to us yesterday that a slight shock of earthquake was felt in South and East Salem by some persons on Wednesday night. The houses are reported as trembling, and a loud noise was heard as of the report of a cannon." Entirely sensational, we guess.

The Albany Democrat says: "John Faulkner, living a few miles southeast of this city, was recently married. Having an older brother, still unmarried, that worthy bachelor was brought in and, in obedience to an old and amusing custom, was compelled to dance in a hog trough for the delectation of the happy couple."

The following members have been elected delegates from Willamette Lodge No. 15, I. O. G. T., at Oregon City, to the Grand Lodge which convenes at Salem on Tuesday, June 11th: John Blackwell, J. M. The Statesman says wheat in Marion county is looking finely, and there is a fair show for a larger yield of grain than there ever was before in Oregon. A large amount has been sown, and it is growing nicely. Farmers feel very jubilant over the evident good fortune in store for them. The recent rain was a welcome visitor and will push vegetation forward rapidly. The fruit prospects, however, are very slim, cherry trees being nearly all killed, and but few plums have escaped serious injury by the late frosts.

Mrs. Clark, a resident of Brownsville, Linn county, has been sent to the Insane Asylum. Some eight months ago her husband was killed by a falling tree in Washington Territory, since which time she has been at times very despondent until recently she became suddenly delirious, and has since continued to exhibit unmistakable signs of insanity. Grief at the sudden and violent death of her husband is believed to be the chief cause of her unfortunate malady. She is the mother of three little children who are thus worse than orphaned by their double affliction.

A correspondent at Lafayette says: "The new railroad town located on the line of the west side railroad at the crossing of the Yamhill river, has been christened St. Joseph and the plot filed for record. Lots are being offered for sale at fair prices, and a large number will be taken in a few days. The site is a beautiful one and well chosen. It is now covered with a fine crop of fall wheat; all a man has to do is to buy and fence a lot and he has a crop of wheat at hand. It covers the summit of a mound that slopes gently in every direction. It is also in the center of as rich and fertile a section as any on the west side of the Wallamet, and having many other advantages. It is destined at no distant day to outstrip all its competitors."

FOREIGN NOTES.

An edition of "Darwin's Descent of Man" has been issued in Russia.

According to a Vienna letter, Von Beust at an early day intends to carry out his long cherished intention to visit the United States and remain here at least a year. He is said to have many intimate friends in this country.

FRENCH FINANCES.—It was recently stated in the Paris Constitutionnel that negotiations for the complete evacuation of the French territory were being carried on. The condition to be made the basis of an agreement, it was alleged, was the immediate payment of the remaining three milliards still due to Germany. The statement was ridiculed at the time as impossible. But it has since turned out to be correct, and it is confirmed on good authority that Thiers will be able to submit to the Assembly, when it meets, the conditions upon which France will be delivered from foreign occupation.

PROMPT MEASURES.—Immediately after the late uprising of the Erie Railroad, the following notice was posted on the door of the Grand Opera House:

At the present time the youngsters of Chehalis county, Washington Territory, are having a gay time with the whooping cough. At last advices there were not children enough for it to go around and some appeared to have more than their just share.

Mr. Burney, C. E., lately arrived from the States, has taken charge of the railroad surveying party under Captain James Tilton Sheets, now surveying on the east side of Puget Sound. Captain Sheets will take charge of a party to survey the Skagit Pass.

Articles of Incorporation have been filed in the Territorial Secretary's office, Washington Territory, by the Mutual Supply Water Company of Seattle. The incorporators are Samuel Denny, George C. Fisher, Charles Myers, Orange Jacobs, H. H. Hill and Charles Maidment.

Three pack trains arrived at Rocky Bar, Idaho Territory, last Monday, the first of the season—one from Toano, one from Kelton, and the other from Boise City, loaded with cargo from Jacob's store. The road is in good condition. Business for the season in Alturas county will soon be brisk.

The Courier says: "Tumwater, Washington Territory, has the finest water power in the world. There is a fall of 80 feet in a distance of 400 yards, and at an ordinary stage of water 40,000 cubic yards of water pass over the fall each minute. The village contains a population of about three hundred, embracing sixty families. This is preëminently a manufacturing town, and the time is not far distant when it will be a second Lowell."

The Puget Sound Courier of the 22d instant says: "William Hawk, Deputy Sheriff of Pierce county, returned from Victoria by the North Pacific this morning. Mr. Hawk followed the prisoners, Coleman and Hawley, to Barrow Inlet, at the north end of Vancouver's Island, where he made the arrest. The Victorian authorities detained Hawley for fifteen days, to show cause why he should not be handed over to Uncle Sam. The crime of mayhem not being included in the extradition treaty, Coleman was set at liberty. The prisoners state that Riley, who escaped from the Pierce county jail at the same time, sailed for Valparaiso."

POLITICAL NOTES.

Mr. George H. Pendleton, it is believed, will "stump" the Western States for Greeley. That will be a queer exhibition.

Andrew Johnson says that he will not support Greeley, and that the Democratic party can never be drawn into that bargain.

It is reported that the Hon. Charles Hale has tendered, or is about to tender, his resignation as Assistant Secretary of State.

"The country looks to this convention to present a trained statesman as a candidate for the Presidency," said Carl Schurz, at Cincinnati. The response was the nomination of Farmer Greeley.

S. Q. Cummings, the prominent labor reformer, expresses the utmost dissatisfaction with the nomination of Greeley and announces his determination to attend the Philadelphia Convention and support General Grant.

A Washington dispatch says: Justice Davis has retired from the Presidential field, and all use of his name by the Democratic or any other convention hereafter will be entirely unauthorized. He will not be a candidate of any party under any circumstances.

Van Trump, a Democratic member of Congress, from Ohio, recommends the Democracy to "spurn the bribe" of affiliation with any other party and trust to its own principles for regaining power. On this plan that will arrive about the time the last trump is sounded.

A Georgia Democratic paper of some influence urges the Southern leaders not to be precipitate in falling in with the Cincinnati movement, and suggests that possibly under certain contingencies they expect even more from Grant than they might from "his late friends."

The Rutland Herald remarks: "Perhaps Mr. Greeley has no larger circle of readers and followers than in Vermont; but when, on the sober second thought, the man, the policy and the platform on which he stands come to be canvassed, he will have few supporters. The loyal men of Vermont are not yet prepared to abandon the Republican party."

The Woodhull Convention have concluded to issue bonds to pay the expense of the campaign, redeemable "when the people get possession of the Government." If by the people, is meant the Woodhullians, the "present value" of those bonds is about equal to zero sunk the seven millionth root and infinity subtracted from that. Still $3,000 has been taken of the stock.

Some simple Indiana people, who heard Greeley's address before the Agricultural Association last fall, labor under the apprehension that in case of his election everybody will be compelled to eat mutton. The Lafayette Journal assures them, however, that this is a mistake, that the question is to be referred to the Congressional districts and they can vote it down.

From Samuel Bowles' remarks upon the doings at Cincinnati, it seems that the Convention whose existence was supposed to be a protest against corruption was itself a political market. Judge Davis spent $50,000; votes, opinions and favors of every kind were sold cheap for cash, and there was as much swearing at the result as if it had been a stock exchange where many had lost their ventures.

The Louisville Courier declares that the coming dictionary will be a more complete affair than the present book. For instance, it will contain definitions like this: "GREELEY. 1. A great editor who flourished A. D. 1872. 2. To bolt, as in politics; the use of 'to Greeley' in connection with fastening doors is a vulgar corruption. 3. Utter a profane oath; to swear horribly; to exasperate. 4. To till the soil as a farmer."

A great proportion of the Democratic press seems to be still adhering to the passive policy and advising their constituents to lie low and wait until after the Baltimore Convention. The question is whether to take Greeley and his Liberal Republican adherents and unite simply to beat Grant, or to take the chance of running in an independent ticket through Republican quarrellings. It will take a couple of months to settle these questions.

The New York Evening Post, which has very strongly sympathized with the Liberal movement, and which is not accustomed to slop over, says of the weak point in Mr. Greeley's character: "Mr. Greeley's political associations and intimacies are so bad that we can expect nothing from him, in case, to his own misfortune and ours, he should be elected, but a corrupt administration of affairs." The Post sums up its opposition to Greeley in the following terse language: "With such a head as is on his shoulders the affairs of the nation could not, under his direction, be wisely administered; with such manners as his, they could not be administered with common decorum; with such associations as he has taken to his bosom, they could not be administered with common integrity."

An ancient sable Floridian recently tried to cut off a sleeping alligator's head with his little hatchet. He was prevented, however, by the saurian, which, awakening, lost no time in eating up the venerable darkey.

The Chicago Post says Mr. Greeley's growing tendencies for free trade or low tariff is ascribed to the fact that the consumption of nails in the Tribune office is immense. He uses at least a keg a day, nailing lies and slanders editorially.

Theodore Tilton has evidently got sick of his Auriferous Epoch. He says that "so long as fools must part with their money, there is no more effectual and fascinating way of effecting the separation than by starting a newspaper."

A tornado passed over Columbia and Chester, S. Carolina, recently. In Columbia the Court House was destroyed, and in Chester 52 houses were blown down and others damaged. The loss in Chester is estimated at $50,000. Four colored persons were injured. Miles of fences and thousands of trees were also prostrated.

The London Punch gives a hint to Brother Jonathan in a cartoon representing the figure of the Tichborne claimant in chains, and inscribed upon his expansive paunch, "He who claims what isn't his n, when he's caught is sent to prison," upon which gazes Jonathan with affrightened aspect, while John Bull, bill poster for the nonce, surveys the scene with a waggish air of jollity.

Mr Nesmith and his Style

The Herald has another grievance. It devotes an editorial column in length to abuse of Attorney General Williams, because he declined to divide his time in his appointments throughout the State with ex-Senator Nesmith. "This," says the Herald, "goes to prove that Williams is too cowardly to meet an honorable and able antagonist in debate."

Now the idea of talking about "debate" with Mr Nesmith is absurd. As an antagonist he is neither "honorable" nor "able," and no man who respects himself or the audiences he addresses would divide time with him. Mr. Nesmith's "speeches" consist simply of low, smutty stories and rambling and incoherent blackguardism, seasoned with malice and vituperation. He discusses nothing. He presents no arguments. He never made a speech in this State and but few in the Senate which would not be better suited to a brothel than to the ear of decency. If a newspaper should give a faithful, verbatim report of one of his campaign speeches it would stand a chance of being suppressed as a filthy and obscene publication.

No man of decent sensibilities ever heard Mr. Nesmith make a campaign speech without being shocked and outraged with his deliberate and studied obscenity. He expends as much labor in the preparation and delivery of his unclean diatribes as another man expends on an elaborate and polished oration. Whatever, a malicious invention or an impure imagination, trained by deliberate choice to years of such service as a decent nature would loath and shrink from, can suggest, is wrought into his harangues. In warp and woof they are studied obscenity, deliberate malice and demagogical perversions of truth.

In Mr. Nesmith's career there have been some redeeming acts, and these we have always been disposed to give him credit for. During the rebellion, while his party were all secessionists and using every means in their power to obstruct the authority of the Government, Mr. Nesmith earnestly advocated the prosecution of the war, and devoted himself with some assiduity to the details of public business. One of his acts was the suppression, in this State, of a large number of just such newspapers as are now praising him. We do not deny that he has some capacity for business, or that, while at the National Capital, he was in some respects a useful Senator for Oregon. But gross impurity is the dominating feature of his mind; and this is seconded by a malice which is utterly unscrupulous, and which, when dealing with opponents, is disdainful of candor and truth. Two years ago he made a tour of the State, appearing as a sort of appendage to Kelly's kite. This year he is performing similar service for Grover, but making some slight pretensions for the Senate himself. He is not so low a demagogue as Grover, but in his own chosen province no one has ever got below him.

Mr. Williams has not much time to remain in the State, and perhaps does not feel like wasting that time with Mr. Nesmith. The latter has had the whole field before him ever since the campaign opened, and can speak wherever he can find a crowd that appreciates his peculiar style. We believe he is announced to speak in Portland. If he delivers such a speech as the last one he made here, and the municipal authorities do their duty, he will be committed, in default of bail, for using indecent and obscene language in the public streets.

False Issues.

Do not all remember how, just on the eve of the election two years ago, a tremendous onslaught was made upon the Republican party on the subject of railroads? And do not all remember the farcical result? The whole thing was mere humbug. Yet we were assured that the State would be ruined, its commercial independence destroyed and the people reduced to vassalage, if this "Radical" scheme were not checkmated. When a Democratic Legislature assembled three months later, it adopted that very scheme.

A play something similar is attempted now. This time various humbugging pretenses are raised in reference to the locks. The Republican party, it is alleged, is pledged to a policy which will defeat their construction or enable the "railroad king" to get hold of them. Yet all the time the owners of the locks have been trying to sell them to the "railroad king."

Is it not time that these humbugs were eliminated from politics? But the Democratic party dwells in an atmosphere and fog of shams, and can scarcely be expected to rise to a higher view. Hence its invention, at every election, of false issues like these.

Elegant Epithets.

The Democratic organ no longer looks after the interests of its own party, but continues to spend its time in talking about the Republican primaries. It asks:

> Was not your ticket, which you call "Republican," nominated through Mr. Holladay's sinister influence? Did he not import a mob here, from distant counties, to control your primaries? Were not your primaries controlled by this imported mob?

We have said heretofore, and now repeat, that no "mob" was "imported" here from "distant counties," nor was a single man brought here from any other county, to vote. Nobody can furnish proof of your allegations. You invent a story and continue to harp on it, because you have nothing else to say. Not a word of truth is there in the whole of these assertions about an "imported mob." The "mob" you talk of are voters of this city. The Herald is not very nice in its selection of terms. It once called the mass of voters in its own party, at a primary, "irresponsible vagabonds."

The communication addressed to Democrats, in another column of this paper, was handed in for publication by one of the best known and most uncompromising Democrats of Portland. The communication was prepared at a conference of many Democrats, who decline to be sold out by the managers of their party. Election day will reveal something to these managers that they did not dream of when they made the trade with the Dolly Vardens.

Evidences multiply that the Democracy of Multnomah county will not support the ticket nominated for them by a handful of disaffected Republicans. This ticket will lose far more Democrats than it will gain Republicans.

And still the Herald is mum about the Grant county embezzlement. And yet it pretends detestation of official rogues,—when they are not of its own party.

This Saturday evening, General E. L. Applegate will address the people of Portland at the Court House. A full house and a stirring speech may be expected.

Mr. Greeley's Characteristics.

Prominent among the newspapers supporting the Cincinnati Convention is the Springfield Mass.: Republican, a paper which, under the management of Mr Samuel Bowles, has achieved a high reputation. The Republican now recommends the Philadelphia Convention to accept the Cincinnati nominee. But in another place in the same issue the Republican, in speaking of a matter that transpired in the Convention about which there was some dispute, sketches Mr Greeley's leading characteristics thus:

> With his usual perversity of temper and openness to flattery, Mr. Greeley will probably continue to give his faith and to attribute his success to those who fawn upon him that they may use him, and to slander and abuse those braver and truer friends who dare to expose these creatures to him and the world, and tell him the truth that he needs to hear, even if he does not like it.

The New York Times takes the Republican to task for inconsistency. It asks:

> With what decency can the Republican recommend the people to elect as President a man whose "perversity of temper" and "openness to flattery" he admits are habitual—who is surrounded by persons "who fawn upon him that they may use him," who "slander and abuse his true friends"? Is a man of this kind likely to make a good President? With Fenton as his right hand adviser—Fenton, who has been mixed up in corrupt railroad and other schemes without number, and who is the very type of a corrupt and degraded "politician"—what would be likely to become of the public interests?

Democratic Demoralization.

Judge Caton, of Illinois, a prominent Democrat, has written a letter to the Chicago Times in which he thus testifies to the general demoralization of his party and the causes of it:

> You think I assume too much when I say our choice is necessarily to be made between Mr. Greeley and Mr. Grant. Would that I could see that we could have a wider range of choice. If our party were drilled to the discipline it once was; if we could count upon every Democratic vote in the country; if we could kindle in them that enthusiasm which can alone be aroused by confident hope, then we might have some chance of electing a majority of the electoral votes inasmuch as a plurality vote in most of the States can elect electors. But in my judgment, our party is so demoralized we cannot depend upon all the voters who have acted with us.

And he proceeds to say further:

> The truth is, we are hopelessly demoralized, and the course of events for the last two months has done more to produce this state of things than all our disastrous defeats in the last twelve years. Hence it is that I think it would be impossible to unite our party, with all its strength, on any candidate our convention might name, no matter how acceptable he might be to us all.

Grand Lodge Proceedings.

The following matters of interest to members of the I. O. O. F. are gathered from the Statesman's report of the proceedings of the Grand Lodge, now in session at Salem, on Thursday.

Opened with prayer by the Grand Chaplain.

P. Kelley of No. 17 appointed G. W. Marshal pro tem.

The Committee on Appeals made a report recommending that the appeal from Pioneer Lodge No. 1, Idaho Ter., be referred back to committee with orders to complete papers.

The Committee on Visitations reported the Grand Master had faithfully and well performed his duty, having visited every Lodge in the jurisdiction. They recommended that if funds would permit that appropriations be made for a continuation of these visits during the coming year. Adopted.

H. V. V. Johnson was declared entitled to a seat, and the G. L. Degree was conferred upon him.

Committee on Correspondence made a report relating to remuneration for the services of the Grand Master. Lost, and referred back to the committee to instruct and report an amendment to subordinate Lodges in regard to same matter.

A charter was granted to Albany Lodge No. 4, the former one having been destroyed by fire.

The G. L. Degree was conferred on P. G. J. W. Davenport, of Silverton Lodge No. 21, and P. G., A. Goldsmith, of Minerva Lodge No. 19.

Charters were then granted to the following Lodges, authorizing Lodges to be organized at the following named places: Home Lodge No. 94, at Monroe, Oregon; Beaver Lodge No. 25, at Astoria, Oregon; Fidelity No. 36, at Aumsville, Oregon; Umpqua No. 37, at Oakland, Oregon; Myrtle No. 38, at Myrtle Creek, Oregon; Touchet No. 5, at Waitsburg, W. T.

The Finance Committee reported that the Grand Master had expended $580 in his visitations, using the same in an economical and judicious manner.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the O. & C. R. R. for favors shown delegates to the Grand Lodge.

In the afternoon met and adjourned to visit the Penitentiary, Salem Water Works, and Wallamet University.

Met again at 8 P. M. and proceeded with the election of Grand officers, which resulted as follows:

R. W. Grand Master, J. T. Apperson, of Oregon Lodge No. 3.

D. G. Master, A. J. Marshall, Hassalo No. 15.

R. W. G. Warden, L. P. Higbee, Owyhee No. 2, I. T.

R. W. G. Treasurer, Isaac R. Moores, Chemeketa No. 1.

R. W. G. Representative (two years), F. G. Schwatka, Chemeketa No. 1.

R. W. G. Representative (one year), J. W. Whalley, Hassalo No. 15.

How the Colored People will Vote.

The Cincinnati Commercial, one of the originators of the Greeley movement, publishes a communication from Peter H. Clark, a prominent colored leader there. The Commercial says in an editorial notice that Mr. Clark is a close observer and a man of "Liberal" tendencies, who has recently traveled in the South. It adds:

Mr. Clark says in his communication that if the Greeley party are building any hopes on the oft-repeated assertion that the colored people of the South will vote for their candidate, they are surely doomed to disappointment. That some colored men will be found on their side, is perhaps true. Some colored men have been found to vote the straight Democratic ticket, but the number is small, and not likely to increase. The fact that the Republican party was the instrument which has freed and enfranchised him, which guards him in the exercise of his rights as a freedman, and which promises him great future good, is known and well known to the dullest black man in the South; and, if he can get a chance to approach the ballot-box uninterrupted, he will vote for the candidate of that party. He says, in conclusion, to the Republicans of the South, that every man who is not in their camp will be regarded as an enemy. They will seek to maintain the organization intact, and will vote solid for the nominee of the Philadelphia Convention.

THE GREELEY SCOW.—The La Crosse Leader illustrates the Greeley reform movement in the following striking style:

Every one who has traveled by boat on the upper Mississippi has noticed the little barges, loaded with wood, clinging to the shore, with the owner sitting waiting on her. He wants to dispose of his cargo, and so waits till a great steamer shall take him in tow and appropriate his fuel, which is valuable when needed. Alone, the barge is impotent and the wood worthless.

Just so the little scow of "Reform" is now lying helplessly in the political stream, with Greeley in command. She can only move by being taken in tow by a larger craft, but her lading comprises scarcely nothing desirable, of which that larger craft has not a full supply, and even if her cargo should be needed, we have never yet known the owner of the scow to take command of the steamer which took him in tow.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

A lady teacher in an Iowa school lately punished a boy for kissing the big girls by making him stand up before all the scholars and show how it was done. She found this policy wouldn't work. The boys thought it capital punishment, and it had to be abandoned.

A New York letter writer says that Josie Mansfield, the woman in the Fisk murder business, has lots of proposals made to her, and receives a dozen letters a day on an average from strangers. Last week brought her a proposition from a man in Montreal to start on a lecturing tour through Europe, he to furnish the means, etc.

It seems to be admitted that the American cotton report of 1872 will not much exceed, if it reaches, 3,000,000 bales, against 4,350,000 bales in 1870-1. This great falling off makes the apparent supply of American cotton insufficient for the wants of the world at the rate of consumption which has been supposed to prevail during the last twelve months.

A man in Concord, N. H., received a note the other day enclosing $50 "from one sick of sin." He had no idea who the sin sick mortal was, but the people of Concord are hoping that his malady will become epidemic if the general effect is to impel its victims to send $50 bills about in such a reckless manner. We have an impression that this same sickness is very common hereabouts, but it is attended with entirely different symptoms.

The foul fiend of rebellion is not wholly exorcised from the South. In Lexington, Mo., a paper is published which insults decent white men by calling itself the Caucasian. Not long ago, in an article headed the "Derringer Result," it advocated the assassination of the President, and just before the Cincinnati Convention gave us among what it calls its "principles," "the total repudiation of the monstrous Yankee debt," and shouted "down with bondholders and taxation, down with test oaths and registrations." Its ticket was Brown for President and Greeley for Vice President.

Kunie, the island which is to be the future residence of the Communists who are sentenced to simple transportation, was discovered by Cook in 1774, and called by him Pine Island. In 1853 it was taken possession of by the French. This island, which lies about thirty miles southeast of New Caledonia, the main French Polynesian possession, enjoys a most luxuriant and salubrious climate. Cannibalism may be considered as extinct, owing to the exertions of the missionaries, who have also acclimatized large flocks of live stock, so as to divert the carnivorous appetites of the natives. The families of the transported are allowed a passage and residence.

Democrats.

We are not bound in this county except for two men, Congressman and Prosecuting Attorney. No other nominations were made on the Democratic ticket.

Every Democrat has a right to vote for whom he pleases on the county ticket, and no man or set of men, not excepting Mr. Mason and forty-seven others, has the right to say what men, Republicans or Democrats, we shall vote for.

No Democrat has a right to make any combination with Republicans for a county ticket, the success of which directly or indirectly affects a regular nominee of the party on the State ticket, because the paramount allegiance of every Democrat is due to the nominees of his party, first, last, and all the time.

The fight in this State is between the Dam and Lock monopoly and Mr. Holladay—the former of whom have preyed upon the State, while the latter has been a benefactor to it. If Joe Teal fails to secure the legislation he will be unable to obtain an extension of time in which to complete the locks, thereby forfeiting his franchise and his bonds. This is with him a race of life; for he cannot complete the locks by January 1st, 1873. A failure to do this is financial ruin of Joe Teal; therefore everything will be sacrificed to save himself. Consequently he will sacrifice the State ticket to secure the Legislature.

Hare for life, hound for breakfast.

MANY DEMOCRATS.

Portland, May 24, 1872.

The Washington Chronicle of April 23d says that "a very singular accident occurred at Newburg early Sunday morning. Mrs. Jane McQuna died on Saturday morning of consumption, and on Sunday night a wake was held over the body, a large party being assembled. At a late hour the guests retired, leaving the dead woman's husband and a man named O'Rourke to watch the corpse. They soon fell asleep, however, and after dozing for about half an hour, they were awakened by the fumes of smoke and the crackling of flames, and discovered that the candles at the feet of the corpse had burned down to the shroud, which was on fire. They tried their best to extinguish the flames, but did not succeed until the dead woman's body was burned quite badly from her feet to the abdomen, both limbs. The flames then spread along until the pillow on which rested her head and her hair was set on fire, the latter of which was entirely consumed. Her under clothing and a new dark merino dress, in which Mrs. McQuna expressed a desire, before her death, to be buried, were also partly burned. The floor and baseboard around the room were burned. Every pane of glass in a window about six feet distant from the corpse was smashed by the intense heat from the flames."

A French author has translated a passage from one of Cooper's novels as follows: "He descended from his horse in front of the chateau, and tied him to a large grasshopper." The original reads: "A large locust" (tree).

THE UMATILLA HOUSE at The Dalles is now completed and furnished in every respect unsurpassed. The office is the most cheerful and pleasant in the State, and the dining hall is unequaled. The rooms are all newly furnished. The house has twelve suites of rooms with stoves in them for families. The new house stands much higher than the old one. The ceilings are four feet higher, which adds greatly to the cheerfulness of the rooms. The table is kept in a style to correspond fully with the appointments.

Still Another Remarkable Cure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 10, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & Co.—For two years I was afflicted with Rheumatism, and tried all the known remedies, experienced nothing more than a temporary relief, the disease always returning. Some months since I concluded to take your Oak Weed Remedy, and the result was a Speedy and Permanent Cure, the Rheumatism being entirely eradicated from the system. The "UNE" is also a Tonic of the very highest order. It increases the appetite, and invigorates the body. I cheerfully bear testimony to its good effect upon me, and feel sure that it will do all you claim for it.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 25, 1872.

CITY.

Meeting at the Court House.—The Hon. Elisha L. Applegate is to deliver this evening at the Court House one of his eloquent and stirring appeals to the people of this county in favor of the principles and doctrines of the Republican party. We look for a crowded house to greet him, and will not be disappointed, for his fame as a speaker is wide spread. Every voter of this city and county should attend and listen to a true, unvarnished tale of the policy of a party whose constant aim and object has been to develop the growth and prosperity of the country, and nowhere so much as in Oregon, evidences of which are so apparent that "he who runs may read." It is to bring the policy of this party fairly and squarely before the gaze of the people of this city and county that is the object of Mr. Applegate's appearance amongst us this evening. That he will be well and warmly received we have no doubt, and we do wish that in the crowd that will listen to him a fair sprinkling of our political enemies may mingle, so that they can have the advantage of listening to a few words of truth and the principles of the Republican party expounded, free from the misrepresentations of partisan ingenuity. A respectful invitation is extended to the ladies, for whose use seats will be reserved.

Neptune Rowing Club.—This Club intend to have a meeting during the coming week to make some definite arrangements about giving a grand regatta on the Fourth of July. A new boat has been finished down at Rainier, and another rowing club organized at that place. The Neptune Club have one boat here, but we learn that the intention is to build another boat and organize [illegible] club in this city. This will make three clubs who can enter the field for the championship. A lively competition will thus be created between the respective clubs, and will stimulate to more persistent efforts to excel in this invigorating and healthful field of muscular sport. We hope that a regatta will be held some time during the present season.

Turners' Fest.—If the weather does not prove inclement to-morrow, the Turners propose to hold their annual Fest at the Canyon Garden. As will be seen by the advertised programme, very extensive preparations have been made to make it surpass, in the extent and variety of the [illegible], anything ever attempted by the Turners in this city. Nothing has been omitted which can [illegible] to the comfort or enjoyment of participants. All that is required is fair weather to insure the entire success of the occasion. On Monday evening a grand ball will be given at the Skating Rink under the auspices of this organization. There will also be exhibitions of gymnastic skill.

Sisters' Picnic.—The pupils of St. Mary's Academy, accompanied by their teachers, held their picnic, in contemplation for some time, last Thursday, in the beautiful oak grove, bounded by East and West Park streets, and K and L streets, in the northern part of the city. The number in attendance was considerably over 100, and would have been larger had not the threatening state of the weather prevented many from going. Everything passed off to the entire satisfaction of all, and nothing occurred to mar the festivities of the day.

Effective Work.—The steam shovel now in operation in the deep cut a few miles south of this city, along the West Side track, is the first "paddy" ever used in the State. It is now in full blast. The effectiveness of the machine is apparent from the fact that another train of dump cars will have to be added to keep it running all [illegible]. More than half the men ordinarily employed are dispensed with, and three times as much work is accomplished in the same time. Yesterday 120 dump cars were filled and emptied in Couch's Lake.

Novel Feature.—At the Skating Rink on Monday evening, when a number of the most active and expert Turners will compete for gymnastic superiority, for suitable prizes to be awarded the most proficient, the celebrated "Niagara Leap" will be performed. We are informed that it is a most difficult feat to accomplish. This will be the first instance where amateur gymnasts have ever [illegible] tried it on this coast. It will be a novel and very attractive feature of the evening's entertainment.

C[illegible].—By order of the City Council three [illegible] will be constructed at the intersection of the following streets: Harrison and Seventh, [illegible] and Tenth, and E and Fourth. The [illegible] will probably be let to-day. The con[illegible] of these cisterns will be a great public [illegible] and safeguard in the event of fire on [illegible] of the back streets in their locality.

Bark Rival.—The merchandise has been discharged from this bark. The locomotive for Walla Walla was placed on board the Hayward and was taken up the river this morning. On Monday the Rival will be hauled over to the east side wharf and her iron discharged. She will be ready to receive freight on Wednesday morning.

Acceptance.—The First Baptist Church of this city not long since extended to Rev. A. R. Medbury, late pastor of the First Baptist Church in San Francisco, an invitation to assume the pastorate duties. He has signified his acceptance, and will soon arrive in this city. He will enter upon his labors some time next month.

Catholic Picnic.—At a meeting held last evening at the Catholic Library Rooms, it was determined to hold the school picnic, which was to have come off on last Thursday, on next Thursday, the weather permitting. The steamer Fannie Troup has been chartered and the excursionists will hold their picnic at Vancouver.

Races.—This afternoon, at three o'clock, a trotting race will come off at the White House race course, between Atkinson's "Boston," and Wilson's "Humpy," $100 on a side; mile heats, two and three. A running race will also come off at 4 o'clock, half mile heats, $50 on a side, with [illegible] on each.

To Vancouver.—The Sunday-school connected with St. David's Church, East Portland, will hold a basket picnic to Vancouver to day, if the weather will allow. The steamer Vancouver has been chartered, and will leave the wharf at 10:30 A. M. Families are required to furnish their own lunch.

Judges Selected.—Hon. J. N. Dolph, Chas. Hopkins and L. Lowenstein, Esqs., have been selected by the Turn Verein Society of this city, to act as Judges at the Skating Rink, on Monday evening, in awarding prizes to the pupils who excel in the gymnastic exercises to take place there.

Unitarian Chapel.—There will be service held at this church to-morrow morning and evening by the Rev. Mr. Kimball. Subject in the morning: "The Personality of Christ and His Religion." In the evening: "Is Unitarian Christianity a Safe Religion to Trust In."

Courts.—The United States Circuit Court will convene on Monday morning. On the same day the United States District Court will meet, when the case of the United States vs. M. S. Hart, charged with fraud, will come up for trial.

By Train.—The train of last evening brought down the following freight: 3 cars flour; 996 lbs. bacon; 530 lbs. butter; 750 lbs. furs; 3 cars wheat; 128 lbs. hams; 7,559 lbs merchandise; 1,062 lbs. eggs; 7,898 lbs. dried apples.

In Respect.—The flag and streamer were both displayed at half-mast yesterday on board the [illegible] Senator, in respect to the memory of the deck hand James Thompson, who was drowned at Oregon City on Thursday evening.

Reward Offered.—A reward of $50 is offered by F. A. White, Sheriff of Tillamook county, for the capture and return to him of Levi S. Westgate, an account of whose arrest and escape was published a few days since.

Presbyterian Church.—Public worship will be resumed in this church to-morrow—conducted in the morning by the pastor, Dr. Lindsley, and in the evening by Rev. Thomas J Weekes, of San Juan Island.

Inundated.—The lower story of the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf, the Willamette Transportation, and some portions of Flanders' wharf, are all under water, and the river is still rapidly rising.

Accepted.—The members of the City Council have accepted the invitation to attend the festivities at the Turner's Fest, to take place at Canyon Garden on Sunday next.

"Fighting Joe" Hooker is now in California. He will probably pay this State a visit before his return East, as he resided in Southern Oregon before the outbreak of the rebellion, which gave him his present title to distinction.

Recently there has been several unsuccessful attempts at self-destruction in this city. Like every other action, there should be philosophy exercised. The method to be selected for committing suicides depends on the character of the man. If he is somewhat lacking in resolution, the pistol is to be recommended in preference to drowning.

The worst infliction in the poetry line, on the prevalent fashion, is the following:

"O Dolly! Dolly Varden! Is a lady's form a garden,
That thou madly trail'st it o'er with a thousand vines or more?"

That's more excruciating, if possible, than any fashion.

Drowned.—One of the deck hands on board of the steamer Senator was knocked overboard on Thursday evening, at Oregon City, and drowned. His name was James Thompson. The circumstances of the unfortunate occurrence are as follows: At the time, the men were engaged in unloading the boat. Thompson had just placed one of the gates for the Lock Company on a hand truck, and bore down on that portion of the truck held in the hands, when the gate slipped back and struck him in the chest, knocking him overboard. As he fell backwards he retained his hold of the truck and it went down with him. He was never seen after he struck the water. Grappling was called into requisition, and continued until 11 o'clock, Thursday night, but without success. Operations were resumed yesterday, but with what success we have not learned. Deceased was a native of Ireland, 30 years of age and single. He has been in the employ of the Lock Company since last Fall.

The Court adjourned without day.

Parted.—The wire cable reaching from the foot of Stark street to the eastern shore, parted yesterday. The result is that Portland No. 1, has been compelled to adopt her discarded rudder to make the required landings. Owing to the stage of water and high winds prevailing, much difficulty has been experienced to make the "riffle."

Bad Boys.—The boldness and deviltry of Portland youths is certainly a theme for disparaging comments, if general reports are to be credited. Some time since we published a specimen of their vandalism in tying a poor dog to the railroad track so that the animal was run over and crushed to pieces. Now we have another charge to lay at their door, which, if it is not so revolting to humanity, is fully as grave a breach of decency and correct morals. We have been authentically informed that a crowd of these juveniles hung persistently around the place where the Sisters gave their picnic on last Thursday, and actually dared to insult them and the young ladies under their charge, by obscenity, low, coarse remarks, and indecent conduct. We would recommend, under such circumstances, that, on future occasions of this character, picnic parties composed entirely of females should request the attendance of either the police or some gentleman to protect them from a repetition of such dastardly insults. Boys who are guilty of such mean, contemptible conduct ought to be traced up, and made to feel the consequences.

Accused of Perjury.—Miss Ida May was arrested on Thursday evening by Constable Ryan on a warrant issued from Justice Crich's Court. She was charged with the crime of perjury, committed in a case where she appeared as plaintiff—tried a few days prior in Justice Snyder's court. The case came up for examination before Justice Crich, yesterday morning. From the complaint, the accused is charged with having made a false statement while testifying under solemn oath, that she had been struck and assaulted with a billet of wood by one Annie Driscoll, when such was not the case. She waived an examination, and was held to answer before the Grand Jury at the June term of the Circuit Court, in the sum of $1,000. On procuring the requisite amount of bail, the prisoner was released from custody.

The Japanese Troupe.—The attendance at the Theater last evening to witness the wonderful performances of the Royal Tycoon Japanese Troupe was large, and the feats of the Company were all surprising and, in many instances, truly astounding. Never before did our citizens have an opportunity of witnessing many of the features which are brought out in this exhibition. Feats and tricks are performed which completely confound the uninitiated; and of which one who has not seen them, can form no correct idea. The Troupe will give a Matinee this afternoon, and this evening their closing entertainment in Portland. Those attending are well repaid for their time and money.

Corpus Christi.—Next Thursday, May 30th, the Catholic Church will celebrate the great feast of Corpus Christi, in commemoration of the institution of the Sacrifice and Sacrament. The Sentinel says: "This being a holy day of obligation, all who can, are bound, under pain of moral sin, to abstain from work and hear Mass. Those who are so situated as to be unable to abstain from work, must at least hear Mass. Masses will be said on that day at 5½, 8 and 10 o'clock A. M., the last being High Mass. Benediction at 5 o'clock in the evening."

Timely Shower.—A gentleman just from the vicinity of Lafayette, Yamhill county, informs us that that locality was visited on Tuesday night by a splendid and well-timed shower of rain which will prove of great value to the already promising and finely growing crops.

Deferred.—On account of the inclemency of the weather, the proposed picnic and basket dinner of the East Portland M. E. Sunday School, to Sullivan's Springs, announced for to-day, has been postponed. It will take place the first fair day.

"Portland Lancers."—This is the title of a new piece of music lately composed by Mr. Chas. Bray, of this city, and just published in San Francisco. It is said to be an excellent composition.

Half Price.—The price for admission to the matinee at the Japanese performance this afternoon will be one-half—children 25 and grown persons 50 cents.

Time Required.—The time occupied in passing from Olympia to Portland is one day and a half, including a night's lodging.

Provide Against Danger

At this season all the great lines of travel begin to swarm with human beings intent on business or pleasure. Are these moving multitudes aware of the danger which ensues from drinking different varieties of water and breathing atmospheres to which their lungs are unaccustomed? Do they realize how important it is to be prearmed with an antidote that will defend their systems from the evil consequences of such changes and from all ailments and disturbances which arise from the miasma so plentifully evolved from the soil at this period of the year? Such an antidote—certain in its protective operation and free from everything objectionable in composition and flavor—has been for twenty years before the world. No instance can be adduced during that period in which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have failed as a corrective medicine, or as a preventive of the bodily ills to which the undefended system is liable in unhealthy localities.

A good appetite, perfect digestion, a vigorous condition of the nervous system, functional regularity, and a pure and active circulation, are the elements of health, and these signal blessings may be secured and perpetuated by the use of this powerful yet harmless vegetable tonic. Such is the experience of all who have ever taken it as a safeguard against the diseases which debility, irregularity and a morbid condition of the solids and fluids of the body are sure to invite.

Von Moltke and Homer.

Marshal Von Moltke, during his military mission in Turkey, found time to pay a visit to the supposed site of Troy, and he describes this visit in his recently published book:

I directed my footsteps, he says, toward a spot to which are attached the oldest of historical souvenirs, but where time has probably blotted out all traces of man's handiwork—towards Troy. Strange to say, the site has pointed out to me with great appearance of probability, the theatre of events which were related centuries ago by a blind poet, and which occurred centuries again before his day. Nature has remained the same. Here are the two streams where the women of Troy washed their "shining robes;" there the Simois descends from Mount Ida and mingles its turbulent waters with the calm flood of the Scamander. The waves still roar around Cape Sigeum and the Island of Imbros. The white peak of Mount Ida, from whence Jupiter contemplated the doings of gods and of men, is visible from every point in the plain, and Poseidon, "who made the earth to tremble," could not indeed have found a more splendid seat than "the loftiest point of verdant Samothrace," from the heighth of which he witnessed the strife and its issue. In the "Iliad" it is necessary to make a distinction between the truth of events which occurred and that of the poem itself. That all the places of whom it speaks combatted beneath the walls of Pergamos may be doubtful as the genealogy of his demi-gods; but one thing is certain—Homer made his story fit in with the locality which he must have known most thoroughly. The site of the city is determined by the fact that the Scamander's source was just beneath it, and that the waters of the Simois washed its walls. When it is necessary to fix it more exactly the opinions of the savants vary considerably. I, who am not an authority in science, was merely guided by military instincts towards the spot which one would choose for the erection of an impregnable fort. If, after leaving the Turkish fortress of Rumkalih, at the southern issue of the Dardanelles, you sail up the Simois for three hours, you will find that the plain leads to a chain of hills, at the foot of which is situated the village of Bunarbaschi. It received its present name from the source of the Scamander, which here springs out of the chalkstone. Let us now ascend the slight incline, and we shall reach the spot where most travelers place Troy. Further on, about a thousand yards off there is a deep gorge, and beyond a still higher plateau, about five hundred feet long, which is undoubtedly the position of Pergama. A small mound is held to be the tomb of Hector. And now starting from the supposed tomb, take 800 steps forward in the same direction toward the mass of stone which is perhaps the fallen tower of the Scaean gate whence Priam watched the combatants and whence the son of Andromache started back in terror before the plumed helmet of his sire. You then see before you a piece of ground about five hundred feet each way, and behind you some heights which served for the Citadel of Priam, with its 600 apartments. These heights are bounded on three sides by inaccessible cliffs; the fourth side is practicable, and it is there that must have been situated the Scaean gate—the only one, indeed, that is mentioned as existing. From thence the view embraces the source of the Scamander and the plains where the battles took place, the windings of the Simois, the tombs of Achilles and of Ajax, the position occupied by the fleet near the sandy shore, Mount Ida and the verdant Samothrace. Nor is this all. Along these heights I discovered foundations of wall cutting each other at right angles and built of stones of various kinds without cement. I will not argue that these are the walls of the houses of Troy, but it is well known that temples have been raised and towns christened in memory of the city. It may be that some such monument has sprung from the ruins of ancient Troy, and that they have furnished the numerous capitals and sculptured columns which cover the whole cemetery of the wretched village of Bunarbaschi. Among the most remarkable objects in this interesting country are the tombs; that of Achilles is especially easy of recognition by the description given of it in Homer. It was "upon a point of the Hellespont coast, so that it might be seen from afar upon the sea by all men who lived at the epoch and in the ages yet to come." Between the tomb of Achilles and Cape Rhœtium rises another, which is said to be that of Ajax. The elevated mound has also been opened. Part of it has slipped away, and leaves exposed to view a large square chamber with solid walls, and almost ten feet in length. In one corner of this is a vault about four feet high, along which one can creep upon one's hands and feet for about twelve feet; the cement of this masonry work is mixed with a greenish sort of gravel, it is very hard and appears very ancient. But it shows that the vault does not reach back to the time of Homer, for at that period the dead were "laid in the depths of a grave that was afterward covered over with enormous stones one upon another." It is very probable that in latter days some sovereign may have desired to attach his memory to the imperishable name of Troy, and have had his grave dug in the veritable tumulus of the son of Telamon. But he has no Homer to confer on him the baptism of immortality; the remembrance of him has passed away, and curiosity has found in this venerable monument nothing save that which vanity had deposited therein.—Cornwall Gazette.

The Great American Gull.

As a Presidential candidate Mr. Greeley has strong points. He favored letting the South go without a struggle, and when the war was over, he bailed Jeff. Davis. Then, too, when the New York Times began its war upon Tammany, he took up the cudgel for the ring, and fought for them until the last gun was spiked. Every rebel and every corruptionist has especial reasons for favoring him. It is a notorious fact that he can be gulled the easiest of any public man in the country. This will give him a firm grip upon every man, of whatever party, who looks upon politics as a trade, and whose friendship is secured by the "cohesive power of public plunder."

In precisely the same proportion as thieves gather to the support of this great American gull will honest men, of whatever party, keep aloof from him, and for precisely the same reason. What attracts knavery will repel honesty. Mr. Greeley may be a man of good intentions and personal integrity, but that is a very small matter. By a change of one word he can apply to himself and the American people what poor Cassio said of himself and Othello, "I will ask him for my place; he shall tell me I am a gull. Had I as many mouths as Hydra, such an answer would stop them all."

The gullibility of Greeley is so notorious that even his friends admit. Only a few days ago the Cincinnati Commercial, the ablest newspaper in the bolt, had the candor to admit that "Grant is a safe man." The trouble with Greeley is that he is, of all men, the most unsafe. He is so easily fooled by dead-beats and corruptionists that he would be far more dangerous than a downright rascal. The editor of the Tribune speaks of these thieving hangers-on as worthless dead beats," and adds, "these creatures he must shake off immediately, or there will be trouble before the campaign ends." Here is a confession of judgment. The worst possible charge against an aspirant for the Presidency is fully admitted. The demand for shaking off is simply silly. As well tell the snake to walk upright. When Horace Gull succeeds in shaking off "these creatures," "worthless dead-beats," the Chicago Tribune should proclaim the fact. The public will not fail to remember this admission of gullibility.

The workingmen are doubtless proud of Greeley's genius as a journalist, and might, perhaps, be willing to "break the bonds of party," and even to ignore the shameful barterings that secured him his nomination, but it is an insult to every laboring man in the country to say that "they will forget the weakness of the man and the dangerous influences that will surround him, in great or less degree, in the White House." It is those very "dangerous influences" which will prevent a large class from voting for Greeley who would otherwise be glad to do so. The jokes cracked at his expense, and the comical caricatures that make his oddities familiar to all, are of minor importance, but the fact that he is easily fooled by dead beats and politicians of the Tammany stripe is too fatal a defect to be forgotten or overlooked. Everybody knows that a President could have no other weakness so perilous. The unscrupulous politicians very naturally prefer such a man, and the firmer his personal integrity the better would it be for their purposes. The public will appreciate this feature of the situation more and more keenly every day.—Oregon Journal.

Fraud and Corruption.

A [illegible] the [illegible] in an article in the [illegible]:

Are we going to have these roads constructed according to [illegible]? Are the [illegible] to be [illegible] of [illegible]? We understand they are not! We learn that they have already contracted for a large amount of [illegible] to be used in the construction of these works, by which between $10,000 and [illegible] will be saved to the Company! In the name of the Great Eternal, can we not have some honesty in this State? Are the people created for a higher purpose than to labor from one year's end to another for enough to pay taxes to enrich these virtuous robbers? Can a few sanctimonious scoundrels ingraft themselves upon a Legislature, buy votes enough to give themselves a contract with the State, and then fulfil that contract to just the extent they wish, and no further?

The Bulletin in an article on the subject says:

They have their organs to declare that there has been no fraud or wrong in connection with their Company transactions—dare they show their books? We do not mean their books prepared for the occasion, but their bona fide Company books. We assert that those books will reveal these stated facts, to-wit: That the Company procured the passage of the bill through the last Legislature by bribery and corruption! That Democratic members of both Houses had shares of the capital stock of the Company issued to them without any equivalent therefor except their votes for the bill! That Democratic public men and functionaries in high official stations received shares of the capital stock of the Company for their influence in procuring the passage of the Bill! That prominent Democrats who enacted the part of Lobby members, received shares of the capital stock for no other consideration than their services in assisting the measure through to accomplishment!

Colors for Evening Dress.

A lady of taste will not forget that colors change according as they are looked at by day or by lamp light, and we see her in the middle of the day stepping into a closed saloon lit up with gas to choose her evening dresses.

A rule soon learned by experience in such things is that a color gains or loses in beauty by daylight according to the greater or lesser quantity of yellow it contains. Violet, which is the opposite of yellow, is that which changes most; it becomes of a dull reddish brown. Blue, if pure, becomes greenish; if dark, it looks hard and blackish; if light, it loses color and turns gray. There is a shade of blue which has no brilliance by day, but acquires a great deal by the yellow light of gas, while turquoise silks, charming by daylight, are quite effacee under the lamp of a ball room.

Those greens which incline most to yellow look the prettiest of an evening. Thus apple green acquires the brilliant tints of emerald; peacock green loses its blue reflets, and becomes too yellowish. Yellow materials are certainly those which appear best by lamp light, especially silks and satins. Buttercup yellow, so bright at any time, is brighter than ever of an evening, straw color becomes rosier, sulphur color does not change, and maize becomes exquisitely soft and clear. All brunettes know how extremely becoming it is to them in the ball room.

Pink changes to salmon color. The yellow light of gas or candles, so hostile to all blue tints, enhances the splendor of red. Ruby becomes more brilliant, solferino appears lighter, cerise deepens to crimson, and crimson inclines to capucine, which itself assumes a more orange-like tone, and orange vies with fire color.

Even black and white are subject to the alterations caused by artificial light; bluish blacks, by far the most handsome by day, lose all their beautiful blue shade, and become hard and dull. White, on the contrary, gains much by lamp light; if faded, it lights up again, and actresses often choose yellowish white dresses, knowing they will look best on the stage. Perhaps the loveliest of all shades for the evening is silver gray, which acquires a somewhat rosy tint; but grays which contain any amount of blue, such as pearl gray, lose all their beauty and look dull as soon as lamps are lit.—Harper's Bazar.

The Rapid Growth of Kaiser William's Capital.

A correspondent of the Boston Post, describing the rapid growth of Berlin, and the difficulty in making buildings keep pace with the increase of population, tells the following story:

In the quiet little village of Buchholtz, about five miles from Berlin, a young woman who drove her little car with milk, drawn by two dogs, every morning to the city, owned an acre on which she grew some potatoes for herself and family. Some weeks ago a carriage drove up to her humble abode, and a gentleman descending from it asked her whether she would sell her property. The poor woman, who did not like the idea of giving up her place for the three hundred thalers which it was worth at the highest valuation last year, did not know what to answer. The gentleman became impatient and said: "Well, make the thing short; I ask you whether you will take ten thousand thalers for the land?" The large sum offered made her suspicious, and she answered that she would first ask her son, who kept a small beer shop in Berlin. This fellow made big eyes and said: "Mother, there is something behind it. I bet you will get double what he offers." Indeed, when the would-be purchaser called again he declared himself ready to pay double, but the widow said she must once more speak with her son. So she did. The son shook his head cunningly and said "Mother, send me your man." When the gentleman came to the publican the latter said: "I am sorry, sir, but you are too late; yesterday came some persons who will establish a manufactory in Buchholz; they offered me fifty thousand thalers, and the thing will be settled to-morrow." "But," said the gentleman, "if I give your mother sixty thousand?" "Well, then, you shall have the preference." To-day the widow is living in Potsdamer street, and her only trouble is how she shall spend the interest on her money. On her acre in Buchholz the foundation for a grand factory is already being laid. You may imagine the agreeable position of such unfortunate persons in Berlin who have not any ground or houses to sell.

Mr. Greeley, writing on agricultural topics to the Hon. Wm. L. Ames, who is, next to Long John Wentworth, the only really trustworthy Liberal Republican farmer in the West, calls attention to the superior market price of pulled wool. He says farmers should always pull their wool, instead of shearing it. If the fleece does not come off easily, the sheep should be put into a hot bath of strong lime water, when there will be no difficulty. It is possible that this method may sometimes produce local irritation of the sheep's back. In such cases, the flesh of the sheep should be well rubbed with Russian ointment, which can be had in original wholesale packages of 1,000 ounces each, at $2 per ounce. It is more economical to buy the ointment at wholesale.

It would be amusing, were it not so absurd, to note the pratings of penny-a-liners about President Grant as only a "plain common sense man," when the Presidential office requires a "great statesman." As if the very essence of all real greatness was not this same common sense.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.--1860--X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Beautiful Woman.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM gives to the Complexion the Freshness of Youth.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM overcomes the flush of [illegible] caused by heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes the lady of forty appear but twenty, and so natural and perfect that no person can detect its application. By its use the roughest skin is made to rival the pure radiant texture of youthful beauty. It removes redness, blotches and pimples. It contains nothing that will injure the skin in the least.

MAGNOLIA BALM is used by all fashionable ladies in New York, London and Paris. It costs only 75 cents per Bottle, and is sold by all Druggists and Perfumers.

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and impostors who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and barbers too lazy to work at their trades. Some are [illegible] shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid them is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians, nine cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by false titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearny st., corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering to-day from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pale, bloated and disfigured faces and their broken constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. Is this horrid disease, thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are victims of any of these horrible life destroying diseases, and have them cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are friends of the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing infallibly in curing all diseases in a few days, [illegible] the public by using the names of eminent physicians of Europe and other places. Be therefore cautious and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse, a solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence practiced by the youth of both sexes, is an almost certain cause of producing, with unerring certainty, the [illegible] train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.
